[illegible] is but a roughly sketched outline. The full picture would need a master hand to portray its touching details. Nevertheless one or two strokes from the most imperfect pencil, may not be amiss when drawn from real life.

[illegible] up the Klamath river with many [illegible] through mountain trail separating [illegible] lived Mr. [illegible] He had been [illegible] but his health failing, he [illegible] and [illegible] ance. And as nothing better [illegible] he consented to cook for a company employing a number of hands.

His wife, a beautiful but delicate little woman, who in other circumstances would have been waited upon with the most affectionate [illegible] duty, now helped cook—to save her husband, whose gradual decline terrified her—[illegible] washing to eke out their slender [illegible] and [illegible] for her three little children. Bravely she struggled, and cheerfully, while in the presence of her husband, to whom she would not breathe the fear [illegible] was tearfully confided to [illegible] her next neighbor.

"If he should die! [illegible] husband should die!"

Meanwhile, their youngest and dearest child faded, but so slow the change was not noticed by those accustomed to its presence.

One day the little twelve-month darling was sleeping alone in the family room, while father and mother were busy preparing supper in the one adjoining. Suddenly there came a heavy wind and burst upon the door leading out from the room little one slept. The noise awakened and frightened it. The mother hastened to soothe the child, but finding it unusually excited, paced the floor for sometime with the loved burden cradled in her weak arms.

The wind still came in fitful gusts, while the rain kept up a dreary accompaniment, pouring down as if windows of Heaven were but just opened, and still, up and down, back and forth, walked the mother with her lips pressed to the strangely cold cheek of her child, while a dark heart-cloud was gloomily lowering and instinctively felt.

The storm shrieked with renewed fury, the child shivered as with fear, the mother kissed to reassure it, and the caress was warmly returned. [illegible] O God! be merciful to the stricken heart, holding the lifeless body that had breathed its last baby breath in a kiss!

A little later and I was hurrying through the storm to the house of death.

The numbness of despair seemed to have settled upon the bereaved parents' hearts as I [illegible] them alone with their dead.

Alone [illegible] not long. Soon rough bearded but kindly faces came to express sympathy and offer help.

FRIDAY MORNING, JAN. 31, 1862.

Treatment of Rebel and Federal Prisoners

The treatment of the federal prisoners confined at Richmond affords a striking contrast with that of the rebel prisoners at Washington and other places, where they are confined for the high crime of treason and conspiracy against the government. There are now about two hundred rebel prisoners in Washington, who are treated with the best the land affords in food and clothing, furnished with books and newspapers, and other considerate attentions are paid to their comforts and wants becoming a humane and christian people. Frequent accounts have been given of the "ovations" to rebel officers as they were escorted in carriages to their places of confinement. It is said that between thirty and forty of the Hatteras Inlet prisoners are sick of typhoid fever and measles at Governor's Island hospital, but the New Yorkers provide every delicacy and attention kindness suggests to relieve their necessities. But in Richmond, the capital of the Confederacy, the federal prisoners, who are guilty of nothing but a zeal to serve their country, an enthusiasm to defend the government, and of giving a prompt response to the call for volunteers to put down this wicked rebellion, are confined in jail, and packed into tobacco houses, deprived of most of the comforts even of a prison, such as tea, molasses, sugar, salt, clothing, &c., unless purchased by themselves at fabulous prices, (tea, for instance at $2,50 per lb.,) allowed no books or newspapers to while away the tedious hours of their confinement, and officers are refused intercourse with the men who are stowed in the lofts, and not even permitted to look out upon the blue sky and enjoy the free air God has given them—but are subject to the insulting taunts of their rude sentinels and the heartless jeers of the female "chivalry" who are frequently permitted to visit and annoy them. Such is the remarkable contrast shown in the treatment of prisoners.

FUN AT OLYMPIA.—There must be a jolly set of people at Olympia. The Assistant Adjutant General of the Territory, taking advantage of the absence of the principal, has issued a proclamation calling the people of Washington "To arms! to arms! to arms!" to fight England and France. This aroused the boys and on the evening after they organized and stormed three batteries, one of which was taken several times. The Press reports that eight were shot on the occasion—all in the neck! and one blockade run. English loss unknown. The excitement had subsided at last accounts.

THE GOLD DUST FROM VICTORIA.—The Colonist makes this statement: Gold dust exported from Victoria in 1860 amounted to $1,303,229; in 1861, $1,838,295. In 1859 the sum shipped was $1,540,104. So the facts show that the Carriboo mines have not increased the amounts of gold received from British Columbia.

FROM SALMON RIVER.—A letter from Florence, Salmon River, dated 22d December, to the Mountaineer contains this interesting item:

"Another rich claim has been opened by Messrs. Wilson and Folly on Summit Flat, near town, in which two men with a rocker are averaging from 75 to 100 ounces per day. Warren & Co. are also doing well about fifty yards from here, making from $100 to $200 per day to the man, and others doing nearly as well. Claims that pay from $20 to $50 per day to the man sell for $500 to $800. Flour is selling at from 50 to 75 cents; Bacon 75 to $1, and a good supply on hand. Weather very cold, and to-night snow is falling fast—it is now about two feet and a half deep. Yet trains are arriving daily, and there is no fear of scarcity of provisions this winter."

The Colonist says—The American Government has appointed a Consul for this place, who is expected to arrive on the next steamer.

Important Instructions

The following general instruction, relating to a subject of much importance to the Southern States, have been given by the War department to the Commander of the military forces attached to the expedition:

WAR DEPARTMENT, Oct. 14, 1861.

SIR:—In conducting military operations within States declared by the proclamation of the President to be in a state of insurrection you will govern yourself, so far as persons held to service under the laws of such States are concerned, by the principles of the letters addressed by me to Major General Butler on the 30th of May and the 8th of August, copies of which are herewith furnished to you. As special directions adapted to special circumstances cannot be given, much must be referred to your own discretion as Commanding General of the expedition. You will, however, in general, avail yourself of the services of any persons, whether fugitives from labor or not, who may offer them to the National Government; you will employ such persons in such services as they may be fitted for, either as ordinary employees, or, if special circumstances seem to require it, in any other capacity with such organization in squads, companies or otherwise as you deem most beneficial to the service. This, however, not to mean a general arming of them for military service. You will assure all loyal masters that Congress will provide just compensation to them for the loss of the services of the persons so employed. It is believed that the course thus indicated will best secure the substantial rights of loyal masters and the benefits to the United States of the services of all disposed to support the Government, while it avoids all interference with the social system or local institutions of every State beyond that which insurrection makes unavoidable, and which a restoration of peaceful relations to the Union under the Constitution will immediately remove. Respectfully,

SIMON CAMERON, Secretary of War.

Brig. Gen. T. W. SHERMAN,
Com. Expedition to Southern Coast.

Items from Victoria and Olympia Papers

The Olympia Overland Press says Oregon must not claim the mines out of her territory. Very good. Nature however, is so stern in her arrangements that the mines of the Upper Columbia must all contribute to the growth and wealth of Portland and this valley. This may be hard but it is true.

Chief Justice Hewett has obtained leave of absence from Washington Territory, will make a visit to the States and bring his family out in the spring.

J. D. Jones of Port Townsend has been appointed Deputy Marshal of the U. S. for the first Judicial District of Washington Territory.

The Victoria Colonist says that a thief entered the room of Mrs. Forbes, the tragedienne, in her absence and robbed her of $40.

The Theatrical company which has been playing at Victoria is on a visit to Westminster.

FROM OLYMPIA.—LEGISLATIVE ITEMS.—On the 20th House and Council met in Convention and elected the following officers for the ensuing year:—R. M. Walker, Territorial Auditor; David Philips, Treasurer; Thomas Taylor, Librarian; Lewis Love, F. P. Stanifer, G. A. Barnes, Capitol Commissioners; J. M. Moore, Brig. General; L. A. Wilson, Commissary General; George Gallagher, Adjutant General.

In the House 21st, bill to authorize Calbert Hays to establish a ferry across Snake river—referred. In the Council, bill to locate county seat of Lewis county, passed. Bill to authorize G. Hays to establish a ferry across Snake river; S. Owen to erect a bridge across the Clearwater; J. Messenger and W. H. Manly to establish a ferry across Salmon river—all passed.

In the House on the 22d, bill to authorize G. Hays to establish ferry across Snake river passed. In the Council, bill relating to the keeping, [illegible] and [illegible] passed. [illegible] on the table.

THE OREGON PEACE MEN IN DIXIE.—John K. Lamerick of Jacksonville, one of the Lane factional delegates to the Charleston convention from Oregon, is Commissary of a Louisiana rebel regiment. In June last he was in Washington endeavoring to get his scrip paid, professing great loyalty but proposed to Oregon. We thought then the government ought to have been advised of his proclivities and his tendencies. He pretended he was coming to Oregon, which he got his money. Sykes is quartermaster of a Virginia regiment, and the diminutive little Duff Hannah is a lieutenant or captain in the rebel army. John Lane is son where in North Carolina a lieutenant. Bob Metcalf is in Texas. The commissions of all these worthies were issued on the [illegible] by agent authorized by Jeff. Davis. It is worthy of note that every peace man who has sneaked out of Oregon has joined the rebel army—Sykes, Metcalfe, Hannah, Lamerick and Lane. That exquisitely democratic and eminently "peace" ticket which the Oregon traitors will run in June loses just five votes by the sloping of these beauties.—Statesman.

From our Olympia Correspondent

OLYMPIA, Friday, Jan. 10, 1862.

The Council was occupied most of the morning in the consideration of divorce bills. Some four or five were before them and some statements made by honorable members of the House who desired thus to serve their constituents.

Three of these bills were passed, but they hung fire on Jno. G. Sparks of Walla Walla—this bill being lost on its final passage. But Clarke of Steilacoom came to the rescue, had the vote reconsidered, and the bill will undoubtedly pass to-morrow.

The remaining business was of little general interest, relating to legislation for the benefit of various counties, and some two or three ferry bills.

House of Representatives

FRIDAY, Jan. 10.—Mr. Smith of Walla Walla introduced a resolution requesting the Secretary to pay Mr. W. Johnson per diem and mileage while contesting a seat as member from Walla Walla. Unanimously adopted.

The bill to incorporate the Deschutes and Des Chutes Portage Company was referred to Committee on Corporations, with instructions to report on the 15th January.

Several divorce bills were passed, among which was the bill of George W. Madison, formerly of Portland.

The bill incorporating the University occupied considerable attention, and was finally referred to Committee on Education, with instructions to report on Monday.

The Council bill assigning the Judges was referred to Committee on Judiciary, as also the Council bill creating a District Court for Pierce county to be held at Steilacoom.

The resolutions of censure of Collector Smith were, on motion of Mr. Warbass, indefinitely postponed.

A bill to prevent counterfeiting gold dust and other species of gold, from the Council, was read three times and passed.

The usual number of divorce bills were introduced and acted upon. They still increase.

In the Council.

SATURDAY, Jan. 11.—Mr. Burbank introduced a bill making the University Commissioners elective by the people, and defining the duties of such Commissioners. Referred to Committee on Judiciary.

The House substitute for the Council bill assigning the Judges, transferring Chief Justice Hewitt to the mining district and Judge Oliphant to the Puget Sound district, was taken up. The Council did as before—assigned Judge Oliphant to the mines and Hewitt to the Sound, and so it now stands.

The Rev. Mr. Evans was by the unanimous vote of the Council requested to continue opening the Council with prayer. This is creditable to that body. They have secured the services of an eminently good man, whose mistake appears to have arisen from the fact that he thought it his duty "to speak the truth on all occasions." He now learns that it is not always advisable.

Some four or five divorce bills were passed. Among others the bill divorcing Jno. G. Sparks of Walla Walla.

Council passed the resolution regarding the pay of mileage and per diem to W. W. Johnson, the contesting member from Walla Walla.

In keeping with the passage of divorce bills the legislature has passed a bill incorporating the town of Walla Walla, one section of which authorizes the town council to license gaming houses and houses of ill fame. Mr. Webster, the only republican in the Council, moved to strike out this provision legalizing these vices. Messrs. Burbank and Biles voted with him; the majority, however, defeated it. We rejoice to add that Mr. Webster refused to vote for the bill after the Council had refused to strike out the obnoxious provision. But he voted solitary and alone. A fitting task well done, by this "Divorcing Legislature."

House of Representatives.

SATURDAY, Jan. 11.—Mr. Beatty introduced a bill authorizing the erection of a bridge across the Clearwater river.

A memorial introduced by Mr. Fage relative to the lumbering interests of the Territory, asking for the sale of the timber on Government lands, was passed.

An act to incorporate the Lower Cascade Rail Road and Transportation Company was referred to the Committee on Corporations with instructions to report on the 15th of January.

The bill to incorporate the Washington Steam Navigation Company was referred to Committee on Corporations with instructions to report on the 15th of January.

All these bills touching the right of way and portages on the Columbia river are all the special order for Wednesday, Jan'y 15th, 1862. QUID NUNC.

THE UPPER WILLAMETTE.—The snow had pretty much left before the last cold snap. We suppose, however, the ground is again covered with it, and we fear the distress and loss of stock will be continued.

DIVORCES.—The principal features of the proceedings of the Washington Territory Legislature are the granting of divorces, incorporation of navigation companies and granting monopolies of ferries.

The San Francisco Herald of the 7th says:—Thousands of men in this city are preparing to start in the opening of spring for the Salmon River mines.

CITY.

Paying Dear for being Too Kind.—Mr. Jackson, of Washington county, started, a few days since, with a sleigh load of flour for this city. On the way he overtook a stranger, on foot, and kindly asked him to jump in and ride to town. Nothing loth, the stranger got in, and the two rode along very jocosely until within a few miles of the city, when the sleigh broke down, and Mr. Jackson was compelled to leave his flour and start back home for another conveyance. No sooner was he out of sight, than the "unknown one" made a bee-line for Portland, procured a team, went back and brought the flour in and sold it to a party in this city, pocketing the cash. Mr. Jackson returning, finding the flour gone, came on to town, discovered the purchaser, and sued out a writ of replevin. He was unable to identify the flour in Court, however, thereby losing the suit, and having the costs to pay.

Lodged in the Penitentiary.—Henry Warren, Sheriff of Yamhill County, brought in four convicts yesterday, who were sentenced to two years hard labor in the penitentiary. William Morrison and Thomas McWinney, for larceny, and Charles Crawford and Charles Fairfield, for attempting to rescue the other two from jail at Lafayette, a few days ago. Judge Boise called a special term for the trial of said convicts, which convened on the 27th inst.

An Express to Astoria.—We learn that Messrs. L. Seaman and C. Frenchy, the celebrated boatmen, will start this morning for Astoria in a small boat, with the expectation of meeting Wells, Fargo & Co.'s express per steamer Cortes. Their services were engaged by the unexcelled establishment of Messrs. Tracy & Co. They intend to make the trip in three or four days. If perseverance and plenty of muscle are sufficient, these men will go through.

The Body of Mr. Jagger.—A private letter from the Dalles says that the body of the late Mr. Jagger had been put in pure spirits for preservation, by his friends at that place. It will be sent to this city for interment, on the first downward boat.

Moderating.—At the hour of twelve last night, the weather had moderated considerably. Mercury stood only ten degrees below the freezing point, and the appearance of the sky indicated more snow, or probably rain.

Navigation Closed Again.—Owing to the large quantity of ice in the Willamette yesterday neither the steamer Express or Cowlitz were able to leave for their respective destinations. They are laid up for the present in the river north of the city.

Communication with Vancouver is still kept up from this city. Parties are daily crossing the Columbia on the ice with safety. But we can hear of no news of any importance from thence.

We learn from a gentleman just in from Yamhill county that the loss of cattle in that county will be very great. A Mr. Campbell had already lost 80 head, and it is believed that if the present weather continues another week, one half the stock will starve to death. Farmers were not prepared for so long a winter, and feed was almost exhausted.

An Eastern editor is delighted at having nearly been called "honey" by the gal he loves, because she saluted him at their last meeting as "Old Beeswax!"

Caution!

ONE WM. G. HALL having reported that he is a partner of mine in the Portland Soap Works, this is to give notice that he has nothing to do with the above business, either as partner or agent, and that I will not be responsible for any of his contracts. Said Hall has lately arrived here from San Francisco, out of funds, and has taken the old method of raising the wind. He is formerly from the town of Kendall, Kendall county, Conn., in which he is well known [illegible] to be [illegible] small enough to make his living without honest labor. Description: Height about five feet six, rather squatty built, eyes rather large, and extremely large mouth and grummy countenance, [illegible] spoken, and can be seen any hour of the day passing up and down Front street as though he was doing a land office business. Notice.

WHEREAS a notice has been published as an advertisement by one ALBERT MERCHANT, signing his name as one of firm of W. B. MEAD & CO., proprietors of the Portland Soap Works, in the daily papers, which said notice purports to warn all the public against the undersigned, stating that he is not connected with the Portland Soap Works, either as Partner or Agent, and that said Merchant will not be responsible for any contract entered into by me, and containing further statements which have no foundation at all, I at once [illegible] in the city of Portland and elsewhere, I take this method of stating in reply [illegible] the said A. Merchant did [illegible] cause the wind to reach Portland and start in business here from me, and that upon representations made to me by him, I did leave San Francisco for Portland, where I recently [illegible] my just dues from the said Merchant, much against his will. That I do not claim to have any business connection with the proprietors of the Portland Soap Works, either as partner, Agent, or in any other capacity. The insinuations and statements of said Merchant the public he will probably give the contemptuous consideration they deserve upon a more intimate and extensive acquaintance with his character and transactions. The Medical and Surgical Institute of DR. L. J. CZAPKAY is already secured in a position which places it, as well as its proprietor, far above the assaults of envy and professional malice. In the schools of France the highest prizes are often awarded to practitioners in this department of medical science, and they occupy, with others, an equally lofty position in the profession. Ricord is an illustrious example, a shining light among the philosophical stars of his age in Europe, and Dr. Czapkay has fully equalled him in this country; as a proof of which the Philadelphia College of Medicine conferred upon him a Diploma and the honorary ad eundem degree. Selecting this as his field of operation, although qualified as a graduate of the University of Pesth, and late Chief Surgeon of the Hungarian Revolutionary army, for more extended labors, Dr. L. J. Czapkay has bent his earnest attention to the cure of chronic and private diseases, in which he has become so great an expert that he is now regarded as the master in this branch of his profession throughout the United States, and his portrait and biography are published as matter of interest to their readers in the most exclusive journals. The Doctor's offices are at his Medical and Surgical Institute, on Sacramento street, corner of Leidesdorff, nearly opposite the buildings of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company, San Francisco. We ask particular attention of our readers to the sworn certificates of remarkable cures in another column of this paper. Persons not wishing to lose time in corresponding, please enclose $10 in their letters, and they will get immediate attention to their cases. Address L. J. CZAPKAY, M. SEWING MACHINES

ARE UNEQUALLED BY ANY FOR

BEAUTY AND SIMPLICITY OF CONSTRUCTION

—AND—

Efficiency in Working.

A GOOD SEWING MACHINE

SHOULD BE WELL MADE, simple in its construction, and easily kept in order; should make a firm, even stitch, alike on both sides of the material, and should sew neatly and all materials that can be sewed.

It should be able to use cotton thread, or silk, directly from the spool, and to sew from coarse to fine, and from thick to thin, with rapidity and without changing the tension. It should also be able to make the tension greater or less, on both the under and upper threads, and with uniformity; and should have a straight needle, curved ones being liable to break.

The needle should have perpendicular motion—this is absolutely necessary for heavy work.

It should be able to bind with a binder, hem with a hemmer, should stitch, fell, run and gather, and always ready to work.

It should be capable of using the same size thread on both sides of the work, and of using different colors of thread or silk above or below, to correspond with any two colors of cloth to be united.

It should be able to make a long or short stitch, and to fasten off the seam and commence sewing tightly at the first stitch, and to run easily, and make but little noise.

It should have a wheel feed, no others are in constant contact with the work.

It should not be liable to get out of order, neither should it require a screw driver or wrench to set the needle.

It should not be liable to oil the operator's dress.

It should not form a ridge on the under side, nor ravel.

The undersigned are General Agents for the general supervision of these unrivalled machines for Pacific States and Western Coast of Mexico.

THE RACE OF LIFE

Life is but a span of horses—
One is "Age"—the other "Prime"
Up and down the hill the race is Going ponies, making good time

Boyhood plies the whip of pleasure
Youthful folly gives the start
Manhood goads them at his leisure
Let 'em rip—they're tough at heart

On the sunny road to fifty,
"Prime" is drowned in pleasure's stream
"Age" jogs on like old unthrifty
Life then proves a "one horse team"

"Age" jogs on, grows quite unsteady
Reels and slackens in his pace
Kicks the bucket, always ready,
Gives it up—Death wins the race

Poison Oak.

Every farmer, as well as miner, is interested in the subject of providing a remedy for the evil effects of this noxious plant A medical gentleman has furnished us with the following communication on the subject:

The skin is composed of three layers; poison oak affects the inner ones with slight swelling, heat, redness, and an intense itching, burning pain The nervous filaments are more plentifully supplied on the surface of the body than in the deeper textures of it I believe that little is known of a speedy and successful treatment of this most dreadful disease of surface poison, for among them all I believe this to be the worst I write this from a principle of humanity alone The popular remedies in medical books for surface poisons, I have tried with but little or no effect on the surface, such as sugar of lead, bi carbonate of soda, salt water, diluted spirits, etc The two former of these are used in the less violent of the surface poisons with good effect, such as ivy, sumac and dogwood, but the poison from the poison oak of California is a terrible disease, requiring remedies more determined and radical in their effects, and more speedy, on account of its disposition to spread over the body through contact and inoculation by its own product of poisoned matter exuding from the surface of the body. So, on the same principle that Toodles bought his coffin, I would recommend having this in the house of every farmer in the State Directions: Wash the poisoned surface morning and evening, using a new cloth each time; never scratch the itching surface Apply ointment of flour of sulphur, one ounce, and hog's lard two ounces; rub down the sulphur in a mortar, or on a piece of pine with a knife, then add the lard and rub down again, apply this night and morning and the disease will yield in about four or six days—the skin falling off. In the meantime take epsom salts, a teaspoonful nightly; live light as to diet, without salt, grease, meats, vinegar or spirits, and not expose the surface of the body to cold or damp air while using sulphur, take a dose of sulphur internally, about the quantity a five cent piece will hold, every morning Cut this out and put it in your scrap book, and oblige a benefactor

Another writer says of poisoning: It is stated that rubbing the part poisoned, with sweet oil as soon as possible after the poison shows itself, will effect a speedy cure. Oil rubbed upon the hands previous to going where the poison ivy grows, will be a protection

The Burning Oil Well.

We mentioned a few days ago that a flowing well had been struck on the Blood farm, above the mouth of Oil Creek, and that the oil and gas ignited before the engineer had time to extinguish the fire under the boiler. The stream of oil from the well continued to burn several days, when it was finally extinguished The Franklin Citizen thus describes the scene:

"The scene as described by those who were present, was grand and terrific The sound, like a constant roar of thunder, could be heard for a great distance, whilst the thick, heavy volumes of smoke that continually rolled up and hung like night over the place, were pierced by the vivid, flashing, towering flames, apparently up to the very sky The whole ground was covered with the falling, burning oil for a space of, probably, one hundred feet in diameter Those who have crossed the ocean to witness a Vesuvius or Etna might here have witnessed all the terrific grandeur of those belching volcanoes and the Falls of Niagara could scarcely excel in beauty and sublimity the scene of a burning well viewed in the night time"

☞ Rats and mice may often be caught by baiting the trap with flax, cotton [illegible] which they will try to carry off for making their nests.

Remarkable Instance of Medical Relief

[illegible] perform even the most trifling duty imposed upon the ordinary avocations of life I sought the advice of many physicians, who at first regarded my disease as of trifling importance—but alas! after a few weeks and in several instances months of their treatment, I found, to my unutterable horror that instead of relief, my symptoms became more alarming in their torture and being told by one that my disease being principally confined to the brain, medicine would be of little consequence I despaired of ever regaining my health strength and energy, and as a last resort, and with but a faint hope called upon Dr Czapkay, who after examining my case prescribed some medicine which almost instantly relieved me of the dull pain and dizziness in my head Encouraged by the result, I resolved to place myself immediately under his care and by a strict obedience to all his directions and advice, my head became clear and my ideas collected the constant pain in my back and groins, the weakness of my limbs the nervous reaction of my whole body on the slightest alarm or excitement the misanthropy and evil forebodings the self-distrust and want of confidence in others, the incapability to study and want of resolution, the frightful exciting and at times pleasurable dreams at night followed by involuntary discharges, have all disappeared, and in fact, in two months after having consulted the doctor I felt as if inspired by a new life—that life which but a short time ago I contemplated to end by my own hand With this view to guard the unfortunate from falling into the snares of incompetent quacks, I deem it my duty to offer this testimony to the merit and skill of Dr. Czapkay, and recommend him to all who may stand in need of medical advice being assured by my own experience, that once under his care a radical and permanent cure will be effected.

DR L J CZAPKAY San Francisco—Sir: I have used the last of your medicine and do not think I shall need any more as I feel very well except that I have not entirely got my strength yet but soon will with the appetite I have. It is just three weeks, you may recollect, since I called at your institute with my constitution, as I thought, broken entirely and never thought you would be able to cure me perfectly but thought you might be able to do something to ease the pain in my back and head, and strengthen my nerves so that I would not get excited and tremble at everything Now that you know what I expected, you may judge of my satisfaction at my complete recovery from those symptoms and the removal of those sores and blotches from my skin and the ulcers in my throat and the entire stoppage of those emissions which you said were principally the cause of my sickness I can hardly tell you which is the greatest my joy or my surprise for except not having fully got my strength I feel as well as any man can feel.

Enclosed I send you twenty dollars over your charge, and think myself cheaply cured If you think anybody will be benefited you may put this letter in the newspapers. Believe me gratefully yours THOMAS HAYDEN.

Thankfulness is the incentive to gratitude.
